Forgetting Rival Animosities, Extortionists Now Seem Intent on Extermination of Police.

CHICAGO OFFICER
'TAKEN FOR RIDE'

Detective Joseph Sullivan Is Second Officer To Meet His Death in Week's Time.

BY W. F. SULLIVAN

United News Staff Correspondent. Chicago, May 22.—Gangsters' guns, which recently concentrated on rival gangs and deadly volleys on rival gangs in the war of extermination in Chicago, have turned on the forces of the law which are directing investigations of underworld activities.

This was the opinion of police heads here today following the slaying of Detective Joseph Sullivan, "Ace" of investigators, who signed the complaint against "Machine Gunner" Jack McGurn, indicted in the massacre of seven members of the "Bugs" Moran gang.

Sullivan, confidential investigator for Deputy Police Commissioner John Steeg in the Moran and other recent gang slayings, was killed in a true gangster style. His body, bullet holes in the head and back, was found in his automobile.

Both eyes were blackened, the face and body bruised, and one leg apparently was broken, indicating a terrific struggle preceded the slaying.

Sullivan was the second officer slain in the past week. Patrolman Roy Martin was murdered when he attempted to trap a gang of extortionists who had sought to obtain $50,000 from Moses Blumenthal.

Detective Sullivan had been assigned to the extortionist case and also had been investigating the "little massacres" in which three followers of "Scarface" Al Capone were killed. The triple slaying was regarded by police as an act of reprisal for the Moran massacre.

Authorities were convinced tonight that Sullivan was slain in or near the drink parlor operated by Joe "Red" Bolton on the west side. Acting on a "tip" investigators went to Bolton's place today and found evidence of a gun battle.

A pool of blood on the floor and several bullet holes in the wall indicated Sullivan attempted to shoot it out with his enemies. A pencil, identified as belonging to the officer, was found on the floor.

TEACHER BLAMED
OF GIRL LEAVES
SUICIDE MESSAGE

New York, May 22.—(United News).—Three school books, found on the center span of Manhattan bridge and bearing two notes scrawled in a childish hand, revealed today the disillusionment of Bernice Wood, 13-year-old Brooklyn schoolgirl.

A patrolman strolled upon the books today and, opening one of them, read:

"Dear Edna: Wherever these books are found, that is where I was last seen—and will be last seen. You have been good to me. The cause is Miss Hargley, our school teacher, and Tom.

"Please forgive me for all I did. Do not mention this to mamma. Love, Bernice Wood."

Although Edna Wood, the girl's sister, could account for no suicide motive and did not believe Bernice had taken her life, police dragged the East river in search of the girl's body.

Chicago Judge Refuses To Allow Bail—War Veterans To Urge Hardman To Grant Pardon.

BY KENNETH G. CRAWFORD

United News Staff Correspondent. Chicago, May 22.—(AP)—Robert Elliott Burns, prosperous magazine publisher, will fight his return to the shackles of a Georgia chain gang and the American Legion will aid him, it was indicated today when Burns sought freedom on habeas corpus action.

Hearing before Judge Joseph David here was continued until tomorrow, pending the arrival of Georgia authorities with extradition papers. Judge David refused to allow bail for the fugitive because he could find no precedent for such action.

Although Judge David said that under the law no extradition papers are required for escaped convicts, attorneys for Burns announced their intention to ask Governor Louis L. Emmerson of Illinois, not to honor the Georgia request.

American Legion members who attended the hearing said they would ask their national commander to make a personal plea to the governor of Georgia to pardon Burns, who served in France with the American army during the World War.

Burns, in company with two companions, robbed a grocery in Fulton county, Georgia, of $4. He had just been discharged from the army and was broke with no job in prospect. Caught, he was sentenced to serve from six to ten years on the chain gang. Three months later a negro next to him, expert at swinging a sledge, broke the ankle that shackled Burns.

He escaped and made his way to Chicago. Here he saved his money, he said, and finally founded the magazine, "Greater Chicago." He told the court the magazine netted him $20,000 a year.

Burns accused his wife of reporting him to the Georgia officials in a fit of jealousy because he planned to divorce her and marry another woman.

GOES TO RETURN
CONVICT-EDITOR

Fairburn, Ga., May 22.—(AP)—Robert Elliott Burns, editor of the magazine "Greater Chicago," is a fugitive from Campbell County, Georgia, where he was charged with the slaying of Sheriff T. W. Camp known about him.

Accordingly, County Patrolman G. C. Bentley was en route to Chicago today with orders to be careful when he takes into custody the editor of a magazine which Burns said netted him $20,000 a year. Burns confessed to Chicago police yesterday that he escaped from the Georgia chain gang June 12, 1922, where he was serving a six to eight-year term on a charge of highway robbery.

GIRL AND YOUTH
TOUCH LIVE WIRE,
BOTH ARE KILLED

Purcellville, Va., May 22.—(AP)—Gordon Titus, 10, and Gertrude Peyton, 12, were killed today as a result of touching a heavy voltage live wire while at noon recess at the Lincoln graded school here.

The children, police authorities said, were playing in a field adjoining the school ground.

A large tree had blown across a high tension wire. Authorities said they understood that the current was retarded. School children told police authorities that the Peyton child applied in full front to the persons near herself away and that the Titus boy attempted to pull her from the wire. Both lived about an hour but afterwards failed to respond to heroic attempts by physicians. Parents of both children live in Purcellville, Va.

PADLOCK UPHELD
AT NEW ORLEANS

Guilty Persons Denied Right of Reopening Same Premises, Says Federal Jurist.

New Orleans, May 22.—(AP)—Permanency of the padlock injunction in Volsteadian nuisance cases was upheld in federal court here today by Judge Wayne G. Borah in a test case against Maurice Amaret, proprietor of the formerly padlocked Vieux Carre restaurant in the French quarter of New Orleans.

Judge Borah ruled that regardless of conditions surrounding the actual closing and reopening of the place proceeded against, the padlock applies in full force to the persons responsible for prohibition violation as long as they retain connection with the premises.

Amaret was sentenced to serve five days in jail for contempt of the injunction order as the result of alleged sale of liquor on April 5, 9 and 24 to undercover agents.

The Vieux Carre restaurant, ordered padlocked for a year in November, 1926, but immediately permitted to reopen under bond so that the proprietor might protect his investment in improvements on the premises.

Program Designed To Permit Agreement and Passage of Farm Relief Bill Meets Opposition.

TILSON WILL LEAD
FIGHT ON PROPOSAL

Representative Garner Selected To Introduce Debuture Clause as Tariff Bill Amendment.

BY KENNETH G. CRAWFORD

United News Staff Correspondent. Washington, May 22.—A plan to terminate the deadlock between house and senate conferees on the farm relief bill was devised today by conferees now in charge of the measure.

They proposed to have the controversial tariff debuture provision eliminated from the farm bill in conference and introduced instead as an amendment to the tariff bill now pending in the house.

This would serve the double purpose, they argued, of assuring passage of a farm bill at the special session and of settling the debuture controversy by bringing the plan to a vote in the house.

The conferees' proposal met with immediate opposition from house leaders, however, which may prevent its adoption. Representative Tilson, republican floor leader, said the debuture plan could not be attached to the tariff bill because it is not germane to that legislation.

"The conferees must bring in either a disagreement or a bill which does not carry the debuture clause," he said.

The conferees hit upon their plan at the third meeting of the conference committee when it had become apparent that the debuture provision presented such a formidable obstacle to agreement that it probably could not be overcome.

Unless Tilson changes his mind, however, it probably will have to be abandoned as his opinion is influential with the house rules committee which would be called upon to decide whether the debuture measure could be considered as an amendment to the farm bill.

Tilson was one of the house leaders who prevented a vote on the debuture plan when it was introduced in the house as an amendment to the farm bill and apparently he is determined to stand in the way again.

Garner to Champion Plan. Representative Garner, democrat, floor leader, was picked by the conferees to introduce the debuture plan as a tariff bill amendment. He has pleaded for an opportunity to vote on the measure and has predicted that house democrats would stand almost solidly behind it.

This and the threat of certain western republicans in the house to vote for debuture farm relief may explain Tilson's reluctance to take a chance on a vote. An alliance of democrats and western republicans in the senate.

The debuture provision of the senate bill would give farmers a bounty on the surplus crops they export. This bounty would be half the amount of the import duty on a similar quantity of the same product.

Its object is to extend the benefits of tariff protection to agriculture.

Convicted of Brutal Murder of 19-Year-Old Bride, Jonesboro Man Maintains Innocence.

JURY IS OUT
FOR 17 HOURS

Recommendation for Mercy Given Husband Charged With Beating Mate To Death in Home.

BY KENNETH G. CRAWFORD

United News Staff Correspondent. Jonesboro, Ga., May 22.—(AP)—A jury held Robert Coleman guilty of the murder of his 19-year-old bride last March 14, and fixed the penalty for the crime at life in the state prison.

Seventeen hours after last arguments had been made, and the case turned over to the jury, the verdict was returned marked guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy. Such a verdict made it mandatory on the superior court to fix the penalty at life.

Coleman made no comment and stood motionless while the verdict was read. He was led away to jail immediately, and his counsel did not immediately announce whether or not an appeal would be asked.

Mrs. Coleman was found with her head crushed in a pool of blood in her home. The housewife, declaring her 8-month-old child lay crying in a crib nearby. The state charged that Coleman killed his wife, and then went away to his day of labor.

Coleman, an unsworn, and under Georgia law, unchallenged statement, maintained his innocence, declaring that he left his wife as usual on the morning of March 14, and never saw her alive again. There were no eyewitnesses to the actual murder.

OFFICERS TO FIGHT
PARKER'S ORDERS

Meeting at Macon Today Called Following Adjutant General's Orders for Court-Martial Board

Twelve officers of the Georgia National Guard, under fire in the schism of the factions for and against Adjutant General Homer C. Parker, will meet at Macon Wednesday with attorneys to discuss plans for waging their fight before a court-martial called by the state governor.

Brigadier General H. D. Russell, Wednesday that the officers of Atlanta and Savannah will meet with the adjutant general at Macon at the conference Thursday.

General Parker issued a call for a court-martial and named the officers who will compose the court in an order issued Wednesday. The order was approved by Governor L. G. Hardaway, chief of the state militia. General Parker declined Wednesday to make public the names of the officers to whom he recently sent requests for resignations. Major Usher T. Winslett, of Macon, one of the officers, has admitted receiving such a letter and has announced his determination to fight the efforts of the adjutant-general to remove him from the national guard.

General Parker stated Wednesday the order for the court-martial was issued "to try such persons as may be brought before it." In creating the court-martial it is not necessary to fix any particular date for the session, General Parker said. He picked June 3, "or thereafter," and said it is not by any means certain that a court-martial will be held.

Officers detailed for the court were: Brigadier General Robert J. Travis, president; Lieutenant Colonel Walter R. Neal, Lieutenant Colonel Eugene Oberdorfer, Jr., Major McIntosh M. Burns, Major Charles L. Thompson, Jr., Major Gordon L. Groover, Jr., Major Shephard B. Coleman, Major Carl W. Robinson, Major Herbert C. Hatcher, law member; Major Joseph B. Fraser, Major Herbert C. Eleanor Boardman Indicted; Information Filed Against Vidor.

Los Angeles, May 22.—(United News).—The government's investigation of film colony income tax returns involved two more screen notables today when the federal grand jury returned an indictment against Eleanor Boardman, actress, and an information against her husband, King Vidor, the director.

The couple were accused of evading income tax payments through the filing of false income tax returns. The indictment against Miss Boardman contained six counts, two each for the years 1925, 1926 and 1927. The indictment against Vidor was based on the years 1925 and 1926.

On the basis of government returns, Miss Boardman was accused of withholding $8,834.44 in surreptitious payments to her husband. Vidor was said to have understated his taxes for two years by $38,876.81.

The actress and her husband appeared at the United States district attorney's office late today and it was reported, with confirmation, that a compromise might be effected in Miss Boardman's case whereby she will plead guilty and pay a heavy fine.

DASH OF PLANES
ACROSS ATLANTIC
PROBABLE FRIDAY

Two Ships Expected To Start From Old Orchard; Endurance Fliers Are Now Seeking Records.

Old Orchard, Me., May 22.—(United News).—The American monoplane "Green Flash," which is being groomed here for a flight to Rome, will not be able to take off before Friday. A race across the ocean is seen as a result.

Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A. Yancey, co-pilots, received word late tonight that flying conditions over the Atlantic would be unfavorable Thursday.

The following telegram was received by the aviators from Dr. James H. Kimball, New York meteorologist: "One thousand miles of clouds over Atlantic and highly inadvisable to attempt a flight at this time."

The aviators announced their intention of sleeping late Thursday morning to rest up for the proposed flight. Several more short test flights will be made tomorrow, they said.

The delay of the start of the "Green Flash," will probably enable Armand Lotti, Jr., backer of the flight of the French plane, Bernardini, to bring his plane here before the Americans take off, as flying conditions between this town and New York are expected to be favorable Thursday.

THREE MUSKETEERS
SEEKING NEW RECORD.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., May 22.—(AP)—The monoplane Three Musketeers took off at 7:48:50 eastern daylight time tonight in a second attempt to break the refueling endurance flight record established by the army monoplane Question Mark.

Lieutenant H. B. Clarke, army flyer, was at the controls when the ship roared down the runway for the take-off. The ship rose after a run of about 2,000 feet.

Accompanying Lieutenant Clarke was Martin Jensen, holder of the unofficial solo endurance flight record, and William T. Litch, assistant to Clarke when Clarke was manager of the Roosevelt Field flying school.

WORTH PLANE
HALF WAY TO RECORD.

Fort Worth, Texas, May 22.—(AP)—The monoplane Fort Worth, which is endeavoring to remain in the air as long as possible, broke the refueling endurance record of the army's Question Mark of 150 hours, was throttled down long enough tonight to refuel its engine, and then resumed its flight at 11:35 a. m. Sunday.

Rog L. Robbins and James Kelly today coasted past the half-way mark in their attempt to set the new record. Recognizing the hazard of fire in the refueling operation, they were today for parachutes, but when pilots of the supply plane offered the chutes on a rope Robbins and Kelly refused to take them. The parachutes are not to be taken up again, unless the fliers ask for them.

ARMY BOMBING PLANE
ATTACKING NEW YORK.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—An army bombing plane, piloted by Lieutenant Amos Moon, made a theoretical air attack on New York City tonight. Accompanied by a refueling plane and a radio laboratory ship, the bomber arrived over the city at 7:08 o'clock, eastern daylight time, and four minutes later made a refueling contact with the refueling plane, 2,000 feet above Brooklyn bridge.

Man Must Prove Himself
Bigamist To Get Rid of Wife

FIRST MATE CAN SEND HIM TO PRISON

Memphis, Tenn., May 22.—(AP)—Lloyd P. Powell married once. He thought he obtained a divorce. He married again.

His first wife had him convicted and sentenced for bigamy. He was paroled at the door of the Tennessee penitentiary. Now he wants to leave his second wife, and a judge tells him he has it all to do over again—even the bigamy business.

Chancellor D. W. DeHaven heard Powell's suit for annulment of his second marriage today. The chancellor reviewed these matters of court record.

Powell married Mrs. Nora Jane Powell in Kentucky, some time before 1920. He came to Memphis in that year, and sued for divorce on grounds of desertion six weeks after he arrived. A brief sets out he did not know two years' residence was necessary for suit in this county.

The divorce decree was granted. He immediately married Mrs. Powell, the second. Mrs. Powell, the first, came to Memphis, sued for annulment of

'Duke' Gets $375,000
On Credit, Goes to Jail

NOW HE'S DELUGED WITH BOARD BILLS

St. Petersburg, Fla., May 22.—(AP) Life had taken on a rosy hue for "Dr. Charles Emerson Sargent Maitland," known also as the "Duke of Sutherland," until tradesmen today inquired into a little matter of $375,000 they estimated he owed for furnishings in his gorgeously appointed Snell Isle apartment.

The doctor languished tonight in a jail cell, after apparently having solved the age-old problem of getting something for nothing. The charge against him was obtaining money under false pretenses, but the doctor kept up his spirits and maintained that "everything" would come out all right.

Maitland represented himself to local tradesmen as the head surgeon of eight European and California hospitals. He claimed also to be a member of the British aristocracy, the duke, in fact, of Sutherland. At psychological moments, during his shopping expeditions for art objects, Oriental rugs, diamonds and tapestries, he mentioned casually that his bank deposits in this country alone totaled $19,000,000.

The tradesmen were more than convinced. So much so in fact that they agreed to part with Oriental rugs valued at $80,000, also loaned the doctor $200.

Maitland bought diamonds valued at $25,000 from a St. Petersburg jeweler and several thousand dollars worth of furniture from a Tampa dealer. A great variety of musical instruments and an expensive town car also came his way without initial payments.

Eventually, however, the dealers decided it was time for the "duke" to part with some of his ready cash, and all bills unavailing, took up the matter with the police.

And tonight Maitland awaited the arrival of his "business manager" in Los Angeles, who, he said, would settle for everything "in full."

W. L. Hardin, the business manager, however, wired police that Maitland had obtained serious sums of money from him under pretense he was heir to a vast estate.

Police learned that Maitland came to St. Petersburg during the winter season and took a small cottage with Dan Boyle, a Massachusetts shoemaker. The men did their own housework. When arrested with the doctor, Boyle was acting as chauffeur for his roommate "doctor-duck."

Detectives heard Maitland had suffered a similar grandeur complex in San Francisco in 1915 and said he had been arrested in Miami two years ago for jumping a bond bill.

The chief of detectives in Washington, D. C., said Maitland on one occasion wired the British embassy there, asking hotel reservations be made for him and claiming to be the Duke of Sutherland.

Maitland, a heavy-set blond of 45, maintained his innocence and awaited in his cell the arrival of the "business manager" with the key to the money bags.

SEGREGATION LAW

PIONEER, IS TAKEN

Co-Author Claims That Paper Became Law When Mayor Signed It Tuesday; Fight Looms.

Action of Mayor I. N. Ragdale Wednesday in vetoing the measure passed by city council Monday providing for segregation of races in Atlanta, after he had affixed his signature to the paper Tuesday, will be attacked on the floor of council on June 3, the date of the next regular meeting, as being illegal, Councilman John A. White, co-author of the bill, declared Wednesday night.

Mr. White's next move in his attempts to enact the segregation law will be two-fold, first, to have the measure passed to the city clerk as an ordinance of the city, following approval by the mayor Tuesday of the measure.

Mr. White declared that when the mayor affixed his signature to the bill, it became a law and that at a later date the mayor did not have the authority to recall the act and disapprove it any more than he has the right to rescind any other ordinance.

Using this move not to be upheld by the city attorney, Mr. White then endeavored to have the measure passed to the city clerk as an ordinance of the city, following approval by the mayor Tuesday of the measure.

OFFICER'S SLAYER
PALES, WIFE SOBS
AS JURY REPORTS

Defendant To Hear Sentence Today in Judge Howard's Division of Fulton Court.

SUPREME COURT
GRANTED RETRIAL

First Death Sentence Set Aside—Defense Attorney Plans Another Appeal.

For the second time within less than a year, Fred Fair, prison pressman, Wednesday afternoon heard the reading of a death verdict for his slaying of Patrolman J. E. McDaniel. A jury in Judge G. H. Howard's division of Fulton superior court found Fair guilty of murder, without recommendation for mercy. Judge Howard will complete the record in the case by passing the death sentence on Fair this morning, he announced.

Len B. Guilbeau, attorney for Fair, said that a motion for a new trial will be filed this morning immediately after Judge Howard pronounces sentence. Wednesday's verdict was the result of a new trial granted by the state supreme court.

As Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens read the verdict of the jury, Fair paled and shifted uneasily in his seat. Otherwise he displayed no emotion and took the verdict calmly.

Not so with his wife, however, who burst into racking sobs at the dooming words of the jury's finding. Lower after Fair departed for Fulton tower in the custody of deputy sheriffs, his wife remained in the courtroom and refused to be comforted by relatives. Mrs. Fair sat at the defense table all during the trial.

The jury went out of the courtroom with Fair's fate in its hands at 1:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and after dinner began its deliberations. The verdict was reached shortly after 3 o'clock, and at 3:30 Fair was on his way back to his cell in Fulton tower.

All of the testimony, including the defendant's unsworn statement, was in the jury's hands late Tuesday afternoon, and only the arguments and the judge's charge were heard Wednesday.

Mr. Guilbeau conducted argument for the defense, while Solicitor-General John A. Boykin and Assistant Solicitor Stephens spoke for the state.

Defense Accidental Shot.

The defense contended that the shooting of Officer McDaniel was the result of an accidental shot. It was purely accidental, and that Fair was running to the officer for protection after having been wounded.

SEES GREATER NEED NOW THAN EVER FOR CHURCH

Dr. John McDowell Combats Influence Against Institution.

St. Paul, Minn., May 22.—(P)—The Christian church is more needed now than ever before, declared the Rev. John McDowell D. D., acting general secretary of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., in an address prepared for delivery before the Presbyterian conference on church extension, today.

"We are being told," said the Rev. McDowell, "that the institutions of Christianity are no longer necessary for the development of the Christian life because certain functions which the Christian church once performed are now performed by other and better agencies, such as schools, charity organizations and the state.

"This attitude of mind is voiced in the cry 'more money for schools and hospitals and less for churches.' This is like the cry 'more water for the stream and less for the spring.'

"Those who voice this cry forget that the greater proportion of all money for benevolent and educational institutions, supported by private con-

Memorial Home for Nurses Dedicated by Bishop Candler

The Florence Candler Harris Memorial, a home for Wesley Memorial nurses, just completed at a cost of $180,000, Wednesday was formally dedicated by Bishop Warren A. Candler, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Bishop Candler and Judge John S. Candler, brothers of Mrs. Harris, in whose memory the home for the nurses of Wesley Memorial hospital was constructed, were both present at the dedication ceremony.

Charles Howard Candler, chairman of the building committee, presided at the ceremony, which was given in the main reception room, which was completely furnished at the expense of and under the direct supervision of his wife, Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, of the Southern Methodist church, made the dedicatory address. Mrs. Plato Durham read a paper, "Mrs. Florence Candler Harris, an Appreciation." Miss Clifford Matthews, speaking in behalf of the nurses, expressed their appreciation for the work of Charles H. Candler and his wife and presented a floral token from the group.

Work Is Completed.
The work of the building committee, consisting of Charles Howard Candler, W. D. Thomson and President Harvey Cox, of Emory university, the chairman announced, has been completed and the home is entirely paid for.

In the brief biographical sketch read by Mrs. Durham, the work of Mrs. Florence Candler Harris in securing funds for the erection of Wesley Memorial hospital, as founder of the women's auxiliary, was stressed. Her work in behalf of the nurses of the hospital, for the orthopedic clinic and her contribution to the life of Inman Park Methodist church in her last 20 years spent in Atlanta with her brother, were sketched.

Bishop Beauchamp in his address paid tribute to the nursing profession, saying that the largest contributions made to civilization were not in things material but in service to mankind. He expressed the hope that the memorial becomes a part, would be not a place of things to learn, standards and units, but a place of service to mankind.

Reminiscences of Sister.
Bishop Candler gave some reminiscences of his sister recalling her service to her younger brothers. He, too, praised the nurses for their Christ-like service, saying "This home is none too good for the high service which you will render and the preparation you must secure for this purpose." His formal dedicatory remarks brought the service to a close.

The Emory Glee Club quartet, consisting of Roscoe Smith, George Monahan, Allyn and Lloyd Griffin, furnished the music for the program.

The nurses' home, which is the result of the idea of Samuel L. Willard that nieces and nephews of Mrs. Harris contribute to a fund for its construction and in which nine participated was open to inspection throughout Wednesday.

STATE AUDITOR
DISCUSSES FIGHT

Millon, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—Eradication of malarial fever was discussed by Sam J. Slate, state auditor at public health rally and barbecue here today. Mr. Slate urged the unification of every unit in the state in a fight against the fever as the only sure means of eradication.

Speaking of methods of attack upon the disease, Mr. Slate said "First, we must admit we have malaria. Second, we must convince ourselves that we can eradicate malaria and convince the world we are going to do so. Third, we must pool our resources in the fight. Possibly some counties are too small, but several counties could

United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, May 22.—The senate rules committee decided today to subpoena before it Paul H. Mallon, chief of the capital staff of the United News, in an effort to compel him to divulge names of senators who revealed information regarding a roll-call in secret session.

Mallon will be summoned to appear next Monday to be quizzed regarding his dispatch revealing the roll call on confirmation of former Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, to be United States court of customs appeals, which when brought to the attention of the senate began a controversy over secret sessions which provoked demands they be abolished and culminated today in passage of the rules committee against Mallon.

Mallon Is Banned.
The committee also voted to ban Mallon from the floor privilege accorded to one representative from each of the press associations, though it did not bar him from the press gallery.

This latter action prompted a protest from the floor later by Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, who maintained the rules committee had no right to admit any press association's representatives to the floor in the place of senators.

La Follette's interpretation was upheld by Vice President Curtis, who thereupon barred representatives of the floor privilege which they have had for years.

Flexible Plan
In Tariff Bill
Scored by Beck

Washington, May 22.—(P)—The flexible provisions of the republican tariff bill which the president is given additional authority in raising or lowering import duties were assailed in the house today by Representative Beck, Republican, Pennsylvania, as involving a "momentous and utterly indefensible change in the character of our government."

Before a crowded chamber and amid lively applause from the democratic side, the solicitor-general under Harding and Coolidge tore into the proposed new flexible tariff with a vigor that recalled many of his court appearances as government's legal lawyer. He declared the bill if enacted, in its present form ultimately would go to the supreme court.

Congressing Going Too Far.
While he was not prepared to say that it "may not receive the pontifical absolution of that great court," he expressed the belief that the highest tribunal would, if called upon, decide that congress had gone too far in delegating its taxing power.

The present law provides that the president, upon report of the tariff commission, may raise or lower duties as much as 50 per cent to equalize differences in cost of production of foreign and domestic articles.

The pending bill carries this authority a step farther by permitting the executive to bring changes on "differences in conditions of competition," and to change, if necessary, the method of valuation by adopting the American selling price instead of foreign value, and to re-classify articles.

"To enable the president thus to exercise the most ancient prerogative of congress that has been held in any legislative body in any free country in the world, namely, the prerogative of imposing taxes," was to his mind, said Beck, "the most far-reaching transfer of power to the president of any suggestion that has ever been made in the halls of the American congress."

Contrasts Law With Bill.
He said the new flexible clause was far different from that in the existing law which the supreme court upheld as constitutional. The new proposal, he added, must have originated, not in the minds of the republicans of the ways and means committee, but in "one of those theoretical economists who had recently graduated from some college and who are as full of ideas as a dog is fleas."

He said he supposed the economist persuaded the tariff commission, the commission persuaded the treasury, and the treasury urged it upon the tariff framing committee.

"And, as an administrative measure," he continued, "the committee thinks the greater wisdom of the executive branch of the government should prevail, and thereupon this provision to transfer an almost absolute power of taxation upon the determination of no premise of tangible facts but upon the simple economic theory necessary to make the transfer of such an unexampled power in the history of the English-speaking world, is adopted."

Trial of Former Mayor Is Begun At Jonesboro

Jonesboro, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—Trial of former Mayor C. H. Livey, of East Point, was begun here today in Clayton superior court on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with an automobile accident November 23, 1927, in which J. Livey's machine crashed into the rear of the Green car crushing Mr. Green to death. The former East Point mayor was alleged in testimony to have been driving at a high rate of speed.

The trial is expected to be concluded Thursday. O. J. Coughler, of Jonesboro, and H. A. Allen, of Atlanta, are representing Livey, while William Schley Howard, of Atlanta, is assisting Solicitor-General Claude C. Smith in the prosecution.

Portrait of Martha Beall Candler To Be Unveiled Today at Wesleyan

PORTRAIT OF MARTHA BEALL CANDLER

Macon, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The portrait of Martha Beall Candler, presented by Judge John S. Candler in memory of his mother and painted by Miss Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, is to be unveiled at the Candler Memorial library, Wesleyan college, Thursday. Two little granddaughters of Judge Candler will unveil the painting and Judge Candler's daughter, Mrs. Samuel J. Guy, will make the formal presentation.

The granddaughters are Margaret Louise Candler, who is nine years old and the daughter of the late Major Asa Warren Candler, the only son of Judge Candler, and Florrie Margaret Guy, who is eight years old and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Guy, of Emory university.

Dr. William E. Quillian, president of Wesleyan, will receive the portrait for the college. The faculty and students of the college will be present at the unveiling, as well as friends of the college. Judge Candler finds it impossible to attend the unveiling.

The members of this large family have been well-known to the people of Georgia as well as the nation. Only two of them are living now: Bishop Warren Akin Candler, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, president of Emory college and chancellor of Emory university, and Judge John S. Candler.

Two of this family, William Beall Candler and Asa Warren Candler, have died within the last year. One of the daughters of the family, Miss Elizabeth Frances Candler, who married H. H. Dobbs, was the mother of one of the present members of the board of trustees of Wesleyan college, Samuel Candler Dobbs, who is to deliver the literary address at the commencement exercises on May 27.

Martha Beall Candler was married to Samuel Charles Candler in 1833, three years before Wesleyan college was chartered. They were parents of eleven children, all of whom reached maturity. Samuel Charles Candler died in 1897.

FLORIDA GOVERNOR OFFERS NEW TAX PLAN

Tallahassee, Fla., May 22.—(P).—Governor Doyle Carlton today made an extemporaneous special legislative message, the vehicle of a plea for "sober, intelligent thought" toward passage of finance and taxation measures in the face of financial danger.

Simultaneously, the chief executive brought to a joint session of the senate and house of representatives an alternate plan for revenue distribution, scheduled to reduce the opposition that has been voiced to the original plan as contained in his six interlocking bills for tax revision.

The special message came as a surprise to the members of the senate and house, who generally had not expected to receive for several days the substitute distribution plan.

The new Carlton distribution schedule, embracing approximately $21,600,000 in revenue, would involve a general redistribution of gasoline and motor vehicle funds.

Re-enactment of the present five-cent gasoline tax would be provided, as in the original interlocking six bill plan. Instead of sending three-fifths of this money to the state road department and two-fifths to a pool for reduction of road and bridge indebtedness, the chief executive announced the following proposed distribution:

Two cents a gallon to the state road department.

Two cents to reduce bonded indebtedness; one cent of that amount distributed to the counties as it is paid in, and one cent distributed on the basis of bonded indebtedness of the respective counties.

One cent to counties, two-thirds to be used for common schools and one-third for road construction and maintenance.

Motor vehicle license revenue would be divided on a 75-25 basis, the larger portion going to the state road department and the smaller share being paid into the general revenue fund to meet deficits and increased demands upon the treasury.

CIVIC CLUBS AID DEAF SCHOOL IN BUILDING PLEA

Rome, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—Trustees of the Georgia School for the Deaf, located in Cave Springs, have petitioned the state legislature for a hospital building and a new dormitory, and the Kiwanis clubs of both Rome and Cedartown passed a resolution here today backing them in making this petition.

According to the resolution the need of the school is urgent, and the civic clubs of the two cities will enlist the other clubs of Georgia to back the petition.

FRUIT BILL PASSED BY FLORIDA HOUSE

Growers in State Ordered To Abide by Special Restrictions.

Tallahassee, Fla., May 22.—(P).—The senate's green fruit bill was approved, 73 to 2, in the house of representatives late today as the first piece of major statecraft of the 1923 session to be accepted by both houses of the legislature.

Approval was given after the house had refused to change the measure in any respect from the form in which it was adopted by the senate some time ago. Discussion of the measure was concluded in one hour and a half.

The bill, prepared with the approval of central and south Florida growers and shippers, and scheduled to prevent shipment of immature citrus fruits from the state, was immediately certified to Governor Carlton for his signature.

Consideration of the bill apparently brought a division between central Florida and south Florida groups, with the central state members defending the bill against south Florida attempts to tighten provisions for inspection and to prevent coloring of fruit. The division was erased, however, prior to the final vote.

The bill as submitted by the senate and passed by the house, would make it unlawful to sell or ship citrus fruit, except tangerines, between August 31 and December 1, unless it bear a certificate of inspection and maturity, according to standards laid down in the bill. Tangerines could be shipped, after inspection, from August 31 to November 15. Violation of the act's provisions for shipping would result in revocation of certificate on a graded scale of time.

13 Newspaper Reports to U. S. Hit by Walsh

Washington, May 22.—(P).—Reports of 13 newspapers in which the International Paper and Power company claims an interest, as filed by the publications with the postmaster general, would be laid before the attorney-general for such action as he deems fit under a resolution offered today by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana.

At the request of Senator Fess, republican, Ohio, immediate action on the proposal was deferred so that all senators could acquaint themselves with its purport.

Senator Walsh asserted that "these reports are far from the truth," and said the attorney-general ought to decide whether the newspapers had failed to comply with the law which requires them to state the names of those interested in the publication.

The Montana senator declared that presumably some of the newspapers concerned "violated the law" and some of the statements were "false within the knowledge of the subscribers" to the statements.

Dykes Favors Road Bond Issue in Speech To Montezuma Crowd

Montezuma, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—At a meeting at the Carnegie library last night attended by the county commissioners and citizens of Montezuma, Oglethorpe and the county at large, E. B. Dykes, of Vienna, delivered an address in the interest of a state bond issue to pave the roads of Georgia.

Other speakers were Nelson Shippy, formerly on the staff of the Macon Telegraph and secretary to Senator W. J. Harris; John R. Guerry, and Mayor Jule Wimberly Felton, of Montezuma. Mr. Dykes said the three great problems to come up for consideration at the next session of the state legislature are taxes, education and roads. Relative to taxes, he said Georgia would never come into her own until the present system of taxation was changed.

The U. S. A. is only a few minutes wide

THE Bell System is ever busy reducing the width of America and the distance between cities. For example, in the last five years 350 major improvements, as well as thousands of others whose aggregate importance mounts high, have been made in telephone central-office equipment.

Improved operating practices have eliminated the necessity of your "hanging up" and being called back in 95 per cent of out-of-town calls, adding new speed and ease to your long distance service.

You hold the wire and the operator does the rest.

Since New Year's Day, 1927, the average time for completing all out-of-town calls has been cut 35 per cent and at the same time the per cent of error has been further materially reduced.

There is no standing still in the Bell System. Better and better telephone service at the lowest cost is the goal. Present improvements constantly going into effect are but the foundation for the future's greater service.

SARGON BROUGHT HER NEW HEALTH, STRENGTH, ENERGY

Atlanta Woman Says Rheumatism and Other Troubles Readily Yield to Celebrated Medicine.

"I've been a strong and healthy woman most all my life until this past winter and early spring. I hardly know what was the matter, but I felt like I wanted to sleep all day and all night, too. If I sat down in a chair for ten minutes it looked like I would fall right to sleep, and this was very embarrassing to me at times. I didn't even feel like eating and a glass of buttermilk would satisfy me as much as a hearty meal. "I had a rheumatic condition in my left shoulder that pained me a great deal and affected my whole nervous system. I suffered from headaches and was so badly constipated that I had to be taking laxatives nearly every night. At times I would get awfully dizzy and just have to grab hold of something to keep from falling over. "But the worst thing was that I felt so tired and weak all the time. I simply had no energy and would keep putting off doing things about the house, with the idea that I would be feeling better tomorrow, but it would be the same story the next day. I tried a lot of different medicine but nothing I took did me any real good, and I hardly knew what to do next. I kept reading about Sargon and what splendid results others were getting from taking this medicine, so I decided to try it.

"As soon as I started on this Sargon treatment, I began to strengthen up and feel better. It gave me a fine appetite and I now enjoy a hearty meal as much as anybody. That tired, sleepy feeling is gone and I have regained my old time energy. The rheumatism in my shoulder went away and I'm no longer nervous. I get up in the mornings feeling active and full of life, help get breakfast, get my grandchildren off to school and then go right on with my housework cheerfully, and without tiring.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills overcame my constipation and proved to be the most satisfactory laxative I ever used. Their action is mild and gentle, with no bad after effects. I never have those headaches or dizzy spells any more. Thanks to Sargon, I'm happy to say that I am now feeling more like myself than in months.

"I'm glad to tell others about this wonderful Sargon treatment and I know they can depend on it to help them too."

The above grateful statement was made recently by Mrs. Ella Reed, who lives at 377 Cooper street, S. W. Mrs. Reed is a member of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church, and is highly esteemed by her friends and neighbors.

Sargon may be obtained in Atlanta at Jacobs' Main Store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, and at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

STATE, FEDERAL AID ASKED FOR NEW ROAD

County Resolution Seeks Assistance in Red Oak-Cascade Road Highway.

A resolution asking for state and federal aid in the building of a new road from Red Oak, in Campbell county, to Cascade road at Venetian drive, was passed Wednesday afternoon by the Fulton county commission on a motion by Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the public works committee.

Mr. Stewart said that if state and federal aid for the proposed new road is obtained, the Lee street widening project, from West End to College Park, would be given decided impetus, and that traffic through East Point and College Park between Atlanta and Newnan, would be relieved to a large extent.

An agreement between Campbell and Fulton counties to build the new highway was entered into three years ago. Campbell county has graded its share of the road, but Fulton county's portion is untouched. Mr. Stewart said, The project would involve surveying a new right-of-way for most of the highway, though a portion of the road would include some streets already laid out in its route.

The resolution passed by the commission requests the state highway board to survey the road and to participate in its construction. Under the law, the highway board cannot participate in work in municipalities of more than 2,500 population, and this would prevent the department from participating in the Lee street widening, but the fact that the department would participate in the Red Oak highway would allow the county to devote attention to the Lee street project, Mr. Stewart said.

Teas, Bridge Parties Planned For Rhododendron Sponsors

BEAUTIFUL SOUTHERN GIRLS VIE FOR HONOR

Teas and bridge parties are being planned to celebrate the beautiful southern girls who will represent their respective states at the rhododendron festival at Asheville, N. C., June 17 to 22, according to advice Wednesday from Asheville.

The plans for the teas and bridge parties are in the hands of the women's division of the festival, under the leadership of Mrs. O. C. Hamilton as chairman. The state societies will provide transportation and other entertainment for the sponsors.

A number of photographs of lovely girls have been received from Georgia's universities and colleges as entries in the contest for the Georgia sponsor, and the colleges which have not sent in their entries are urged to do so at once. The entries are from among the girl student groups of the educational institutions.

Places of honor in the organization ceremonies at the court of the king and queen of the festival will be accorded the state sponsors, and they

JAYCEES CALL SESSION ON 'LOAN SHARK' FIGHT

Continuing a fight against the "loan shark" menace in Atlanta which has been in progress for more than four years, the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of this work Wednesday night sent out approximately 60 letters to the leading industrial and commercial firms in the city requesting that they send representatives to a conference at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the Ansley hotel.

The purpose of this meeting, as explained by R. J. Reynolds, Jr., chairman of the committee, is to secure the co-operation of these firms in their efforts to oust the usurious money lenders in the city by explaining to them the real status of the situation here.

"We are fully confident," Mr. Reynolds said Wednesday, "that if we are given an opportunity to present this concern a real picture of the loan shark evil and how it affects them, they will be glad to help us in any way possible and another great step will have been taken towards the ultimate completion of our work."

He made it very plain that the meeting would not last more than an hour and a half and that anyone with a later engagement would be able to leave the meeting in plenty of time.

A report of the committee will be presented, telling what has been accomplished and in addition will include definite recommendations as to future policy in dealing with these matters.

It is said that the conference will be modeled after the Atlanta transportation conference held here last year which had the much needed beneficial effects in ridding the city of "loan sharks."

Grand Jury Favors Road Bond Issue

Augusta, Ga., May 22.—(AP)—The Richmond county grand jury today
submitted a report approving a state road bond issue, and recommended that the local delegation to the general assembly give its support to the proposal.

The grand jurors held that "the day of sand, clay and other soft-surfaced roads is fast passing."

DANCE FEATURES BOILERMAKERS' CONVENTION HERE

Nearly 400 members of the Master Boilermakers Association of America, in attendance at the 20th annual convention, Wednesday terminated a business program devoted largely to technical discussion with an informal dance at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

This morning and afternoon again will be devoted to business routine, while the highlight of the convention will be centered in the annual banquet at 7:30 o'clock tonight on the terrace of the hotel.

The morning session Wednesday was presided over by L. M. Stewart, of Waycross, president of the national association. Papers dealing with technical problems of boiler manufacture and other branches of locomotive manufacture and repair were read. In the afternoon an entertainment program consisting of a sightseeing trip to Stone Mountain and other points of interest and a barbecue led up to the dance Wednesday night.

The convention which began Tuesday will be brought to a close on Friday. One of the principal addresses on today's program will be delivered by O. A. Gardner, chief mechanical engineer of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

NEGRO CONVICTED OF WRECKING TRAIN WINS NEW TRIAL

The supreme court Wednesday
granted a new trial to James Lee Wayne, county negro, sentenced to electrocution on his conviction on a charge of wrecking a train. The supreme court stated the negro was convicted on his confession, which was made under promise of benefit.
The court held that such confessions should not be admitted as legal evidence. Lee and some companions were convicted of wrecking a passenger train on the Southern railroad which resulted in the death of the fireman.

EFFORT TO HALT WORK ON GOLF COURSE MADE

A petition for an injunction to restrain the Fulton county commissioners from doing work on an 80-acre park and golf course tract in College Park and on the property of the South
Fulton Club was filed Wednesday in Fulton superior court by Newton
S. Thomas, head of the Black Rock Country Club. Judge John D. Hun-phries set the matter for a hearing on Saturday, but did not grant a temporary restraining order.

The plaintiff alleges on information and belief that private property would be improved at public expense by the alleged wrong and illegal use of convicts to do the work, and that the work would "redound to the financial benefit of private individuals and corporate interests."

The petition alleges that the 80-acre tract said to have been purchased by the city of College Park for a park and golf course was recovered to the College Park Development Company to secure alleged indebtors' liens on the property, and that the contract of purchase is null and void because the College Park council is without authority to bind the municipal government in the purchase for more than a year. The petition alleges that only $50 was advanced by College Park in the purchase of the property.

The plaintiff alleges on information and belief that the work being done by the city of College Park on grounds by the county is a "part of the same design to improve private property at public expense. The petition alleges that there is no contract to do the work, but that private and corporation would have to be reversed to gain entrance and exit. Attorneys James N. DeFoor and R. E.
Blackburn filed the petition.

WHEN Vicks VapoRub was orig-most unheard of. But almost every user told his neighbor about Vicks—how it is just rubbed on and how it acts two ways at once. Thus the idea grew into a world-wide custom.

Today more than sixty countries are carrying the "Eczema broke out on my hands in pimples and itched and burned, causing me to scratch. The scratching caused sores and eruptions. I had to keep my hands out of water because it made them worse, and I could not do my housework. I suffered about eight months.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. It helped me so I purchased more, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed in about three months." (Signed) Mrs. Mary McCauley, Neuville, Texas, June 7, 1928.

COUNTY CITIZENS ASKED TO ATTEND SCHOOL MEETING

Letters urging attendance at the mass meeting called for 8 o'clock Friday afternoon at Fulton high school by the county board of education have been mailed to patrons and citizens of the Fulton county school system by Jere A. Wells, superintendent of county schools.

The letters point out that state officials have paid only 70 per cent of the common school appropriation for 1928, and have informed the schools that they will be able to pay only 70 of the 1929 common school appropriation during this year, this meaning that Fulton county will lose from this source alone $40,000 by the end of the year unless the deficits are met.

"With the rapid growth in school attendance in this system, it is hard for us to maintain the progress that we have made in recent years in the operation of the schools and at the same time provide the necessary buildings and equipment that are pressing in so many sections of the county," Mr. Wells said.

Mrs. A. H. Duncan, Victim of Suicide, To Be Buried Today

Funeral services for Mrs. A. H. Duncan, 19, of 788 Greenwood avenue, who ended her life Tuesday afternoon at her home by firing a bullet through her heart, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the chapel of Ed Bond & Condon Company. The Rev. McMurtry will officiate and interment will be in Hollywood cemetery.

Ill health is given the reason for Mrs. Duncan's act, although city detectives are inclined to believe domestic troubles may have led to the suicide.

Shortly after Mr. Duncan went to his work, Mrs. Duncan telephoned her mother, Mrs. J. B. Brown, that she was ill. Mrs. Brown hurried to the Duncan apartment and shortly afterward Mr. Duncan arrived at the home. The husband was in another room at the time of the shooting, which Mrs. Brown was with her daughter when the fatal shot was fired.

VALDOSTA WILL STAGE BETTER DAIRY SIRE SALE

Chamber of Commerce To Sponsor Event To Be Held in October.

Valdosta, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—A better sire sale handling only animals of the dairy type will be held in Valdosta on some date in next October, sponsored by the chamber of commerce in connection with all of the leading dairymen in this part of the state.

The better sire sale at Moultrie, at which only best types were handled, indicated a very large demand for the dairy type and the chamber of commerce has taken cognizance of this and announced tentative plans for the sale.

Assurances have already been received that this sale will be most heartily backed by the National Guernsey Breeders Association, the National Jersey Breeders Association and the National Hereford Breeders Association.

Representatives of some of the associations have recently been visitors in Valdosta and looked over south Georgia, finding it in their opinion most suitable for dairying and strongly recommending a campaign to increase the holdings of dairy cows through this section.

General interest in this movement has heretofore been growing slowly, but recently it has assumed such proportions as to attract attention, and this is making it possible to lay plans for the better sire sale to be held in this city in the early fall. It is certain that several hundred sires of pedigree will be collected from the three associations and brought to this city for the sale.

Three Institutions Each Receive $5,000 In Will of J. E. Hickey

Subject to the three institution bequests, the estate of Mr. Hickey is divided so that his wife, Mrs. Ada Alexander Hickey, will receive 15 per cent of the net income, and his sons, James Edwin Hickey, Jr., and Richard Lee Hickey, will share 25 per cent of the net income. Mr. Hickey left his sisters, Mrs. Samuel Rumbough and Constance Rumbough, of Lynchburg, Va., and Mrs. Solmie H. Burroughs, of Norfolk, Va., the sum of $35 each a month for life, and his brother, William F. Hickey, of Lynchburg, the sum of $5,000. Mr. Hickey's granddaughter, Rita Bowen Hickey, was left $30,000.

Richard Lee Hickey and the Trust Company of Georgia were nominated as executors of the estate. The will was filed by the law firm of Smith, Hammond and Smith, and was dated August 3, 1928.

Trucks that can be driven faster and farther in a day, with less effort.

You will find such trucks in the handsome new Indiana models—trim, sturdy, extra well-built, and truly economical in their records of performance. Six and four cylinder models—1 to 7 ton capacities. The patented Tors-Elim cab and radiator mounting gives them an exceptional riding ease and almost complete freedom from stress and strain. These trucks are modern in every sense of the word. Built to meet your particular transportation requirements.

Now the world's third largest exclusive truck manufacturing organization

Through a merger with the Brockway Motor Truck Corporation there is behind the Indiana Truck an organization which is one of the three largest manufacturers of motor-trucks exclusively—an organization that is the most outstanding example of specialized motor-truck construction in the country. An organization of great financial strength, invaluable good-will and assured continuance in business. An organization doing business in 85 countries and having more than 350 points of sales and service in the United States alone—including 43 factory branches.

NEW YORK, MAY 22.—(AP)—The cotton

market was lower today under liquidation and selling by local or commission house interests who were evidently influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and more favorable weather reports. July contracts declined from 18.88 to 18.62 and closed at the lowest with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 19 to 23 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 point, with more notably relatively firm on covering by trade and speculative buyers. In some instances buyers of short months resold in later deliveries.

Market Eases Off.

The general market soon eased off owing to the more favorable weather reports and the weakness abroad. After a short rally, the market declined to 15 points, the market rallied slightly on covering and some buying which may have been inspired by bullish features in the weekly report of the weather bureau. It looked as if the latter had either been discounted or were offset by the more favorable weather details for today, however, and the market weakened again during the afternoon.

There was enough trade buying to cover on a scale down to cause slight upticks, but offerings increased on the edges to 100,000 bales, and were reached in the late trading. May sold off to 18.45 and December to 18.65, and closing prices were at the lowest in the current season. Liquidation of May contracts was a little more in evidence during the day. Trading in the current May position was slow at noon Friday. May 24 and some buying to fix prices on call cotton was reported during today's early trading. This helped to absorb the liquidation and May just about maintained its recent premium closing 80 points over July compared with a difference of 80 points at the close yesterday.

Early Weakness.

The early weakness in grain, and the ruling of the stock market, probably contributed to the decline in cotton, while the later selling was accompanied by rumors of less favorable prospects for an early settlement of reparations.

Private cables reported Bombay selling

in a quiet market at Liverpool. The cloth market at Manchester was closed and will remain closed until Monday.

Port receipts today, 2,528 bales.

United States port stocks, 1,170,224 bales. Exports today, 8,133 bales, making 7,958,442 so far this season.

COTTON PRICES DROP AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, May 22.—(AP)—Cotton prices worked off about $1 a bale today under selling attributed to failure of the weekly crop and weather summary to meet bullish expectations and weakness in grain and stocks. The market opened steady but started declining soon after the start and reached the lows of the day in final trading, when July sold at 18.62. The option closed at that figure, not developed of 24 points. The general market closed steady at net losses of 21 to 24 points.

Liverpool cables were relatively easier, but expectations of a bullish weekly weather report offset the influence exerted by the cables and the local market opened steady. Early trades were unchanged to one point up compared with yesterday's close, with July selling around 18.65, October 18.60 and December 18.76.

The market continued to rule steady during the first hour, but weakened when the weather report, although unfavorable, did not prove as bullish as traders looked for, and before these offerings were absorbed active positions showed decline and weather summary to 10 points from the opening figures.

After fluctuating narrowly for a time the market encountered another wave of selling, which was attributed to the weakness in stocks and grains and to the reported refusal of Germany to accept the reparations agreement. All active months made new lows right at the end, October closing at 18.44 and December 18.54, or 21 points net down.

Receipts, 2,528; for week 21,011; for year 9,180,232; last year 8,211,000. Exports 8,133; for week 43,399; for year 7,329,721; last year 6,680,091. Stocks 1,182,738; last year 1,307,044. On shipboard 74,585; last year 5,164.

DAY IN FINANCE

By
R. L. BARNUM

New York, May 22.—Stocks opened on the statement of the advisory council of the federal reserve board given out at Washington long after the close of the stock market yesterday and widely published in this morning's papers. There was support at the opening of the market with prices recovering until noon under the leadership of the oils, which were higher first on advances in Louisiana crude prices and then on the news that President Hoover had called a conference of oil state governors to discuss ways and means of working closer with the government in bringing about desired curtailment of oil well drilling, prevention of oil waste and oil conservation in general.

With the beginning of the noon hour there was resumed heavy selling of stocks. General Motors, Consolidated Gas, Steel common and other good shares suffering most. Wall Street believed that the stock market was supported at the opening because more stock was being offered for sale than liked by those who, working with the federal reserve, were trying to bring about orderly liquidation; that is, taking down a brick at a time in the speculative structure instead of pulling down the roof. It remains to be seen whether this can be done with the big outside public heavily long on stocks, costing higher prices, and with high carrying charges eating into the principal.

Raising of Rates.
Bets were made here in Wall Street that the New York reserve bank would not be advanced this coming Thursday. In this connection the belief was expressed that inasmuch as liquidation of brokers' loans is under way, the reserve bank here would postpone action in advancing its discount rate until such action could again be used as a club.

Talking at Cincinnati some months ago, Governor Young of the Federal Reserve Board, stated that the discount rate would only be advanced again as a last resort. In the meantime, the reserve banks have reduced their holdings of government securities and bankers' acceptances, while the member banks have cut down their borrowings at the federal reserve banks. This means that a higher discount rate is the best club left the federal reserve banks in bringing about desired liquidation of brokers' loans and speculative credit. Which for the longer loan ahead will bring about desired lower interest rates.

As a result of the heavy liquidation in the stock market, call money opened plentiful at 7 per cent with the rate dropping to 6 1/2 in the middle of the fourth hour. However, there was a further advance to 9 1/2 per cent in the rate on 30-day money with little or none available at this figure. Brokers are able to borrow money to carry them to or past the heavy July 1 money market requirements. There was some recovery in the stock market on the drop in the call money rate.

In usually well-informed circles here

Stocks Recover at Noon But Late Drive Sends Prices Crashing to Low Levels—Rise in Rediscunt Rates Is Anticipated in New York.

the feeling is that lower stock market prices are ahead. However, brokers are making little progress in getting customers with well-margined accounts to sell. The high outside public with well-margined stock accounts have seen the stock market recover so often during the past few years after sharp decline that the feeling prevails on the part of traders that this will again happen, offering a higher price level on which to sell.

A very interesting balance sheet is published by International Nickel as of March 31. Total current liabilities stand at $9,000,000, with current assets at $25,000,000 including $2,400,000 cash, $2,700,000 in United States government and Canadian government securities and $23,500,000 in time and call loans. This last item illustrates the enormous total of existing idle capital in the country, part of which would go into good stocks at attractive prices. The average experienced investor or trader is not willing to buy stocks yielding only 3 per cent when time money in the open market is working at 9 per cent. The arithmetic of that is wrong.

From both the news and gossip coming from Washington and from bank circles here and elsewhere it appears that at its prolonged April meeting in Washington, extending several days, the federal reserve board, made up of leading bankers, passed a resolution April 19 agreeing with the federal reserve council that an excessive amount of the country's credit was being absorbed in stock speculation, pointing out that the reserve bank had increased after the federal reserve board issued its warning on February 5, and concluding with the recommendation that the federal reserve board approve advances in the discount rate of reserve banks desiring such increases.

Unlike the resolution passed yesterday by the advisory council recommending that the federal reserve board approve advances in the discount rate to 6 per cent of reserve banks desiring such action, the resolution of April 19 was not made public by the board. The fact that the board made public the resolution passed yesterday by the advisory council is accepted by Wall Street as indicating that the board will be an advance to 6 per cent in the very near future in the discount rate at Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York, followed later by advances elsewhere. It is understood here that for weeks the four reserve banks named have repeatedly asked the federal reserve board to approve an advance in the discount rate.

If the New York reserve bank, for example, advances its discount rate a full 1 per cent to 6 in the near future this rate will compare with 3 1/2 to 4 per cent in February of last year, with 4 1/2 to 5 in May, with 5 in July, the rate since maintained. The New York reserve bank has maintained for the last five months in 1924 and the first month of 1925.

Brilliant Reception Honors Renowned Pianist and Teacher

Several hundred prominent Atlantans who are interested in the development of good music for Atlanta assembled last evening at the Piedmont Driving Club for the brilliant reception tendered Madame Olga Samoroff, of New York, renowned pianist and teacher. Mrs. Palmer Moore, president of the Atlanta Music Club; Mrs. Reginald Fleet, newly elected president of the Fine Arts Club; Harry M. Atkinson, president of the Atlanta Music Festival Association; and Robert L. Foreman, president of the Atlanta Art Association, and the High Museum of Art, acted as hosts at this interesting affair.

Madame Samoroff's last appearance in Atlanta was in 1923 when she gave a concert under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Club. This famous musician is the former wife of Leopold Stokowski, the popular and distinguished conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra. She is numbered among America's leading pianists and has a host of admirers in Atlanta who are according her a warm welcome.

Madame Samoroff is now extension director for the Juilliard Foundation, of New York, and it was in this capacity that she visited the city yesterday.

At a luncheon given by Mrs. J. M. High in honor of Madame Samoroff, a group of musical leaders of the city discussed with the distinguished guest the possibility of the Juilliard Foundation, an organization which now has assets estimated at $200,000,000, aiding Atlanta in the development of musical knowledge and appreciation among the great mass of her citizens.

Madame Samoroff said that she was not prepared to offer a definite plan, leaving that to the views of the local leaders, but after an hour's conversation it appeared probable that a movement would be launched here to bring a permanent representative of the foundation to this city. The duties of such a representative would include the giving of free public lectures on the history of music and kindred subjects in the schools and various other available auditoriums in all parts of the city.

Should such a course be followed, Madame Samoroff said the foundation would probably consent to pay the salary of the representative sent here, provided local capital was furnished for a studio, headquarters, and for equipment, etc.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Few folk have eyes that really see. Things are not what they seem to be. —Old Mother Nature.

It is always provoking to want to know a thing and try in vain to find it out. Peter knew that the Grebes must have a nest, because, though he often saw Dipper, he never saw Mrs. Grebe with him. Sometimes he saw Mrs. Grebe, but she was always alone. He never knew which one it was that he saw until he asked, all of which was very amusing to the Grebes. But at last one day he found a way of distinguishing between them. He noticed that there were feathers missing from Mrs. Grebe's right wing. After that he could always tell one from the other.

Peter tried watching Mrs. Grebe to see where she went. She always went in the same direction and Peter could not follow her. Have you guessed what direction she was going? Mrs. Grebe had been Peter's goodby, she dove and that was the last Peter saw of her. He knew that she swam under water, but when she finally came up it was always where Peter couldn't see her. Peter had become so discouraged that he had almost lost hope. He wouldn't look any more for that home of the Grebes. Then one morning, quite by chance, he discovered Mrs. Grebe. Peter had come down into the swamp at the head of the Smiling Pool during the night. You know Peter likes to travel about at night. As he was looking for a place to sleep, he suddenly discovered Mrs. Grebe. He was sitting under a tree, and he was looking down into the water. He discovered one of the Grebes. He felt sure it was Mrs. Grebe and in this he was right.

"My goodness," thought Peter, "can that be her nest? No wonder I couldn't find it. I wonder if it really is. I'll scare her and see what she'll do. If that is her nest and there are any eggs in it, I ought to be able to see them from here. So suddenly Peter thumped as only Peter can. Instantly Mrs. Grebe was off that nest and disappeared under water. There had been a couple of quick movements and she was off, but that was all. Peter then stretched up as high as he could, but he could see no eggs. Indeed, he could see nothing that looked like a nest. It was just a mass of dead reeds and grass matted together. There were several other similar masses scattered about. No, it didn't look at all like a nest. Peter was disappointed. Still, he felt that it must be the nest. "I wish I liked the water better," thought Peter.

thought Peter. "If I liked the water better I wouldn't mind swimming out there to find out. But I don't like the water, so I guess I'll stay here. If that is Mrs. Grebe's nest she will come back to it sooner or later. Of course, she may have been just sitting on that place."

So Peter settled himself to wait in patience. He could hear Redwing the Blackbird. He always did like to listen to the song of Redwing. Presently Redwing came flying along and alighted on that little mound that Mrs. Grebe had been sitting on. He stood there for a few moments, after which he flew over to where Mrs. Redwing was sitting on her nest in the alders, not far from where Peter was sitting. "That settles it," said Peter with a sigh. "If that had been Mrs. Grebe's nest with eggs in it, Redwing wouldn't have sat there so unconcerned. He didn't see anything unusual there and there is nothing the matter with Redwing's eyes. Oh, dear, I was sure I then from here. So suddenly Peter thumped as only Peter can. ## RETURN OF ZEPPELIN TO GERMANY DELAYED Cuers, France, May 22.—(AP)—Departure of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin from her emergency refuge here for Friedrichshafen has been definitely postponed until Thursday evening. This decision was made tonight by Captain Lehmann, who received a telegram from Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander and navigator of the big airship, that the latter was journeying from Germany and would arrive at Cuers at 5 p. m. tomorrow.

The big dirigible was fully prepared today to leave at dawn tomorrow. Captain Lehmann had been authorized to use his own judgment as to the hour for taking off but he naturally waited until he was sure that his superior officer was hurrying to Cuers.

The lifting gas which Dr. Eckener released when bringing the big airship to earth here, has been replaced from French government stores. The French gas had been proved to be fully adequate and 14 passengers, including six French officers, will be carried on the return to Friedrichshafen.

Those among the passengers who were aboard the Zeppelin when he started on what was projected as a trans-Atlantic tour, have been making the trip back to Germany. They have been housed since their debarkation here but the opportunity for further travel is being kept open.

Pierre, of New York, the only woman passenger on the list, today publicly begged Captain Lehmann not to wait. "Let me go," she said, "I can't wait."

Officer Working On Gang Slaying Found Murdered

Chicago, May 22.—(AP)—Detective Sergeant Joseph Sullivan, a member of the squad tracking a band of kidnapers who slew Eugene S. Gurnea, was found murdered today. He was found in a rooming house, the complaint charging "Machine Gun" Jack McGurn with the murder. McGurn was shot to death on a west side street today.

Two bullets had entered his head and back, his face was bruised and blackened, and his coat was covered with asphalt dust from the newly paved street. Evidence, police said, that he was shot to death by a single bullet.

A member of Lieutenant William Cusack's detective squad, Sullivan was assigned to the investigation of the multiple Moran gang murders on St. Valentine's day. Sullivan had signed the charge against McGurn at his chief's request. However, he was not inclined to believe his life was taken in revenge for this act, for Sullivan was merely one of the squad.

For several days Cusack's squad had been working down by extortionists as he placed a decoy bullet in the hand of Philip Blum, Moran's partner, who had been kidnapped and was later released.

Sullivan's body apparently was placed in the front seat of his car after the last shooting. He was 28 years old, single, and the son of a policeman.

WORKER OFFERS ALIBI IN DENIAL OF KILLING WOMAN

Anderson, S. C., May 22.—(AP)—Testimony in the trial of Morris B. Spence, charged with the murder of Mrs. Clara Bryan Adams, of Dewey Rose, Ga., was completed in general session court here today. Spence, who had spent an hour on the witness stand in an effort to establish an alibi.

The 22-year-old steel worker told a story of being pursued in three states by the middle-aged Georgia woman whose body was found in the Atlantic river here last March. He said he left a job in an Elberton, Ga., cotton mill in order to escape the woman, whom he had married.

Spence admitted that he had made a trip with her into Tennessee and said he had deserted her near Chattanooga on December 31 and had not seen her since.

Spence said he went to Detroit soon after leaving Mrs. Adams and did not return to South Carolina until the middle of February. His mother took the stand for the defense and testified that she had seen Mrs. Adams here on company with another woman here on the night of February 8.

Mrs. Nellie Patterson, Spence's aunt, offered testimony concerning his surrender to police March 11, five days after the recovery of the body, after a search for him that had extended from Anderson to Detroit and Chicago.

The defense rested after Spence's testimony and the state offered only a brief rebuttal.

Loew's Capitol.

Norma Shearer has the principal role in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," which is presented in a sound film at Loew's Capitol this week, along with five acts of Loew vaudeville. Bayard Veiller's intensely dramatic play has been faithfully translated into the "sight and sound" picture. Nancy Gibbs in "Dear Little Rebel," a miniature opera of the anti-bellum South, headlines the stage bill, which also includes four other entertaining acts. The program comprises also a Metro movie-tone subject, selected comedies and reels of current news events.

Howard.

In "Gentlemen of the Press," playing at the Howard this week, Atlanta theatergoers are seeing a real slice of love and lives of newspapermen. The story was written by Ward Morehouse, formerly member of the Atlanta newspaper fraternity, who has culled into this drama actual experiences observing a long period as a newspaperman. Also on the program is "Hilly Hilly," songland's favorite, a clever humorous act. "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," a color classic, Paramount News and other sound novelties.

Rialto.

Mary Brian, who was selected by Sir James Barrie to create the role of "Peter Pan" in the screen version of his play, has the leading feminine role in "Black Waters," a talking picture, with an international cast, at the Rialto theater. "Black Waters" is from the famous mystery play and success, "The Fog," written by John Willard, author of "The Cat and the Canary." "In Samoland" is from the musical numbers written by Dave Stamper for "The Belle of Samoa," shown at the Rialto theater today. It is sung by Lois Moran in

Browns Trip White Sox 7-3 To Move Up As Hugmen Lose Ground.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The Washington Senators leaped from a five-game losing streak here today just in time to wallop the Yankees coming and going in a double-header by scores of 10 to 2 and 3 to 2. The visitors, run riot against Henry Johnson, Eddie Wells and Gordon Rhodes in the opener as Goslin and Judge hit home runs and returned to the wars to shade Hoyt in the nightcap.

The double defeat sent the world champions careening into third place, and one-half game behind the Athletics and one and one-half games to the rear of the Browns. This is the greatest distance the Hugmen have been from first place at this season since 1925.

Goose Goslin Hits Three Times But Loses in Big Six

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Goose Goslin, with three hits, including a home run, was the star attraction in the Big Six yesterday, but the Washington outfielder nevertheless lost ground and remained in the cellar, due partly to a semi-official revision of the figures which deprived him of a hit previously recorded. The Goose now has 268 against 288 for Paul Waner, the fifth man, who got two out of four against Cincinnati.

Hornsbey and Bottomley were idle, but Hornsbey nevertheless stepped into second place ahead of Ruth, whose average fell precipitously to .302 as the big slugger collected only one safety out his afternoon against Washington. Gehrig got only a single in the first Yankee game, and lost eight points to .333.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 22.—Cy Lingle sent a powerful drive over the left-field fence with the bases full in the first inning here today to give the Lookouts a commanding lead, and Chattanooga walked to a 9-1 victory over the New Orleans Pelicans.

The Pel collected nine hits, each of which came after two men were out. Roy Moore, Lookout first baseman, was put out of the park in the second inning for arguing with Umpire Scott over a called third strike.

Chestnut Oak, With Pony McAtee Up, Wins at Belmont Park

WILL BE REAL CONTENDER IN RICH STAKES

Igloo, Coe Entry, Beaten
To Wire by Six Lengths.

By Orlo L. Robertson.
New York, May 22.—(AP)—If a victory in the Swift stakes is any index to future performances in the richer Withers and Belmont stakes, then the Oakridge stable's Chestnut Oak will be worthy of consideration when turf honors are distributed at Belmont park.

The Oakridge stable chose the Swift stakes today as the spot for the 1929 debut of the son of Apprehension and Bantry Pass and a better spot could not have been selected.

Under Pony McAtee's perfect ride, Chestnut Oak galloped the distance in 1:27 and beat W. R. Coe's Igloo to the wire by six lengths. Glen Riddle farm's Battleship Gray, son of Man o' War, was third, three lengths back of Igloo.

The Audley farm's Easter Stockings, four-year-old daughter of Sir Barton, of 1919 Kentucky Derby fame, accounted for the Henry Clay hotel purse, the feature event at Churchill Downs. Brondside was second and Royal Julian third with Barbara the only other starter.

Making his fourth start at Aurora Jack Haskell scored his initial victory in the LaGrange handicap. In doing so he equaled the track record of 1:45 for the mile and one-sixteenth. The Lewis & Kemp son of Assagai, Postal Order, went into the lead at the rise of the barrier and maintained his position throughout, winning in a driving finish by a head. The place went to Devon, which wore Thistle Fern down through the stretch to take second by a nose.

The SPOTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

EDWARD PAYSON WESTON.

(IN MEMORIAM.)

He traveled by heart and muscle,
Instead of gasoline,
Liking the legs God gave him
More than man's machine.

He lost the world's bright lucre
And the glory of an hour,
But gained untold treasure
Of bird and tree and flower.

He conquered time and distance,
Blizzard and blazing heat—
Let's say he conquered a country
With two untiring feet.

Proud, flashy cars and Lizzies,
The traffic light is red—
Stand still, for Weston's walking
To the city of the dead.

EARL BROWN.

IF SCHMELING FLOPS.

The point has been pretty well made that if Max Schmeling flops the heavyweight situation will be in a somewhat patchy condition. This, then, would leave only Paulino and Sharkey. Paulino barely moved on even terms with Heeney and Risko, who were not in Tunney's class. Sharkey lost to Dempsey, got a draw with Heeney and lost to Risko. He had only a slight margin on Christner and Stribling. There is nothing in the records of Paulino and Sharkey to indicate championship class. Paulino is as tough as rawhide and he has shown he can take as much as a rhinoceros. Sharkey is a good boxer. But to rate either on their past performances as a successor to Dempsey and Tunney would be out of order, unless one of the two can show a terrific bulge over anything they have shown so far.

If Schmeling can beat both men decisively, there will be no question about awarding him the top place and the accompanying rewards. There are any number who believe the German can beat Sharkey if only he can crowd his way by Paulino, which they consider much the harder test.

The point is that it will be a mistake to have any of the three survivors now holding most of the spotlight to figure that any one can be awarded the championship by merely edging by with only a shade to spare. The top of the hill happens to be vacant and some one should be made to earn his place there, rather than survive because the others were a trifle worse.

In a discussion of smart ball players an oldtime fan wrote in recently that King Mike Kelley had more baseball brains than any four ball players carry today. Which is also something hard to prove.

PROFESSIONAL SPORTS DRAW TECH GRADS

Jordan and Martin Latest To Consider Athletics
as Career.

By Herb Clark.

Two more Tech stars have entered professional athletics or will before the week is done, according to reports at the Flats.

John Jordan, pitcher, is expected to leave this week to join the Columbus club in the Southeastern league.

Pirpo Martin, football, baseball and track star, is considering several coaching offers and will accept one this week.

Jordan will be a teammate with one of his old mates at Columbus, Dick Florio, one of the best pitchers the Jackets ever had.

Bob Randolph is also about to step into line. The Jacket fullback, who has spent the past four football seasons in tearing up opposing forward walls, left for Furman yesterday to confer with Dad Amis, another ex-Jacket and head coach there, regarding a post on the Hurricane coaching staff. He is slated to relieve Ed Crowley at the South Carolina school. All this in case he signs, which appears likely at the moment.

Several members of the Tech diamond crew, which closed its season last week, will also be on the salary sheets soon. Shorty Smith is a member of the Senator outfit at Washington, and has been farmed out to Birmingham.

Jimmy Stevens, captain and backstop of the Jacket club, has been given a contract by the Cleveland Indians, and will be sent to the Lindale team in the Georgia-Alabama league for seasoning.

The third member of the Tech crew which has played out its time with the Jackets, Bob Perham, is being hoped to fill the hole left in the Atlanta lineup when Frankie Zoeller was dropped from the roles. Negotiations on this deal have not been completed as yet, but it is probable that the lanky outfielder will wind up in a Cracker uniform before many days. Frank Wootley, who played in the Jacket outfield for the two seasons previous to the one just completed, is already on the roles at Memphis, and will report on June 15 to the Chicks at Birmingham. He is expected to break into the line-up soon, and should have little difficulty in making the grade.

Fox Hound Helped Master

from him. He had had his day and was willing to rest.
Happy Valley was happy then. Now they have industrialized it. There is a great war on there now with men and women dynamiting the hillsides in Happy Valley. They are striking from the great plants that have been built there. When you tear the East Tennessee away from the soil and give him to industry there is no telling what will happen.
Old Limber is sired now. He was old when he went around with his master, stumping the state in a great and furious political campaign in which investors were unusually bitter. And Old Limber and Uncle Alf were swept into office.

FAMOUS SIRS.
Old Limber was sired by another of that name. And before him, even, there was another in the great "War of the Roses" when Bob Taylor and Alf Taylor, brothers but members of different political faiths, went up and down the state stirring it with flaming oratory and vivid personalities.

The name of the chief fox hound of the Taylor clan is written into the political history of Tennessee. I recall that Uncle Alf, who won one of the wars of the roses and then came back to politics at the request of his party and won again, said of his opponent:
"Why, he wears a collar that even Old Limber couldn't jump over."

And the crowd roared. They loved Old Limber and Uncle Alf Taylor. The old man and the old dog live in a corner of the valley some miles away from the great manufacturing plants that have come in. His sons live about him on the hill. He can sit on his front porch and point out the homes of his strong, stout boys. Four of them went with him in his campaigns. They called them "The Old Limber Quartet," and they sang and the dog, a liver and white Walker hound, was with them too.

LAST HUNT.
That great fox hunt, when more than 8,000 people came to honor Uncle Alf Taylor, was the last for them both. They are too old to go any more. They are waiting here in the last Happy Valley with the hillsides blue in waving violets with the little stream still babbling along beside the trail down which came Nollychucky Jack Sevier in buckskins with his long squirrel rifle to settle the state.
It's a great clan, the Taylor clan. They've always had great, fine men and fine, strong, thoroughbred fox hounds.

Mike Cvenegros' Cap Brings Him to Grief

Chicago, May 22.—(AP)—Mike Cvenegros, southpaw pitcher of the Cubs, probably will have a new cap when he again goes into action.
Mike, who has done capable relief pitching for the Cubs, started against the Pirates yesterday but was the victim of a peculiar piece of hard luck in the fifth inning. With a man on third base, Cvenegros was about to deliver the ball to the batsman when his cap slipped down over his face. Not wishing to throw blindfolded, he hesitated and a balk was called, letting the man on third score.

Donahue Is Reported Signed at Springhill

Mobile, Ala., May 22.—(AP)—Authorities at Springhill college today neither denied nor confirmed that Mike Donahue, recognized as one of Dixie's outstanding grid mentors, had been signed to coach or direct athletics at The Hill. Rumors were to the effect that Donahue had been signed.
Donahue is widely known in southern football circles, having been coach at Auburn for a number of years in addition to coaching at Louisiana State.

Durant Decides To Quit Racing

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—(AP)—C1111 Durant, multi-millionaire sportsman and race driver, tonight announced he is through with racing driving and willing to let "the young guys carry on with a young man's game."
Durant is 38. He was scheduled to drive in the annual Indianapolis 500-mile sweepstakes, Memorial Day.
"I no longer feel the reckless abandon it takes to drive in Indianapolis," he said. "It's difficult to retire for I have been racing since 1916 but speeding is a young man's game."
"For years I've heard the statement, 'If I had that guy's dough I would not look at a speeding automobile.' I guess I've got the dough but there's a thrill in racing which makes a guy forget about dough. I'm sorry to quit but I guess it's for the best."

Strong Legs.

Jack Quinn says a pitcher lasts no longer than his legs, and he spends nearly the whole winter training for the next season.

U. S. Cup Stars Face Japs Today

Washington, May 22.—(AP)—John Hennessey, of Indianapolis, and John Van Ryn, of Orange, N. J., were selected today to uphold United States tennis prestige against Japan in the semi-final round of the American zone Davis cup matches which begins tomorrow on the Chevy Chase Club courts.

Hennessey will oppose Taniro Abe and Van Ryn will meet Yoshio Otta, captain of the Nipponese. The doubles match will be played Friday and on Saturday two more singles matches will conclude the international contest.

The winner of the United States-Japan match will play Cuba in the final round of the American zone at Detroit beginning May 30.
President and Mrs. Hoover received the members of the two teams at a tea at the White House this afternoon. Mrs. Hoover plans to attend tomorrow's matches while the chief executive is expected to witness either the Friday or Saturday contest.

Twins Share Team Captaincy

Townsend Harris Hall High school, of New York, has co-captains for the first time, and you can't tell them apart. They are twins, Sam and Leopold Mothner, who star on both track and field.

Star Performers Raise Yale Hopes

Philadelphia, May 22.—Yale's chances to finish among the leaders in the 53d annual I. C. A. A. A. track and field championships on Franklin field, May 31 and June 1 have been greatly enhanced by the spectacular performances of several of its individuals.
Despite its defeat by a narrow margin in the dual meet with Pennsylvania, Yale has one of the best all-around teams in the east to provide a major threat to Stanford, the favorite to again win the championship.
Much of the Elis' hopes to be up front in the final point tabulation rests on the performances of Charles Engle, who has been one of the most consistent winners of the spring campaign. He won both the 220 and 440 yard dashes against Pennsylvania and Princeton.

Baker To Fight At Huntsville

Huntsville, Ala., May 22.—(AP)—Sergeant Sammy Baker of the 135th field artillery, New York, and Irish Tommy Jordan, of Brooklyn, meet at the Madison county fair grounds here tomorrow night in what has been advertised as a welterweight elimination bout.

The fight, which is in the nature of a homecoming for Baker, is being sponsored by the American Legion and predictions were made tonight that a crowd of between 6,000 and 8,000 people will attend. This will constitute a record fight attendance for Alabama.
Interest is at high pitch. Both Baker and Jordan have been working out here for more than a week and large crowds have flocked to each training exhibition.
Jackie Baker, of Huntsville, brother of the welter star, and "Big Boy" Oscar of Birmingham, meet in the semi-final. They are heavyweights. Tommy Baker, of Huntsville and Leo Woods, of Birmingham, will clash in another preliminary.

CANDLER MOUNT IN HORSE SHOW

Many Children To Show Ponies at Piedmont Saturday Afternoon.

Entries continue to roll in for the show to be held Saturday afternoon at Piedmont park by the Atlanta Horse Show Association. The show begins promptly at 1 o'clock with the children's class.

Walter T. Candler, prominent Atlanta horseman, made his entry Wednesday afternoon with Trammel Scott. Candler will show one of his horses, General Keady, in the combination three-gaited class while his daughter, Miss Bootsie Candler, will ride "Patches" in the children's class, which is first on the program.

The entry list for the children's class gives complete evidence that riding has become an art and sport cultivated solely by grown-ups in the city. There are many of the latter classification, but on file at Trammel Scott's store is a quite long list of children under the age of 12 years, who will ride Saturday afternoon.

They are to ride ponies, all under 22 inches in height. And the young riders must know how to ride, for horsemanship in this class will count 75 per cent.

The youngest rider in the show will be Homer Thompson, Jr., whose father will be ringmaster Saturday afternoon. Young Homer is only four years old, but can handle his pony.

Little Miss Ann Ramspeck is another quite young rider. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ramspeck and comes by her riding naturally for Mrs. Ramspeck, who will be in the show, has become nationally known as a horsewoman.

OTHERS IN SHOW.

Major Trammel Scott's young daughter Betty, will show her pony. Other children in the show will be George and Betty McDuffie, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. McDuffie; Elsie and Eleanor Terhune, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Westcott Terhune; Jean and Herbert Oliver, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver; Cam Dorsey, Jr., Robert Alston, H. R. H. White, III, and Reese Inman, whose father, F. M. Inman, was formerly one of the leading horsemen of Atlanta and the south, exhibiting ponies in shows over the entire country.

Sale of box seats has picked up noticeably in the last day or so, according to Major Scott Wednesday. Boxes have been reserved for Clark Howell, Sr., Stewart Witham, General Richmond P. Davis, General A. G. Lott, Lieutenant Colonel C. O. Thomas, Major John S. Cohen, Walter T. Candler and others.

Davis Cup Team Plays Japs Today

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Passage for Europe on the Brenzan, sailing June 5, has been booked for the four young tennis stars making up the United States 1929 Davis cup team: John Hennessey, John Van Ryn, George Lott and Wilmer Allison.

The reservations for the trip abroad, of course, are contingent upon the United States capturing the American zone final.

Two more obstacles remain to be overcome before that is accomplished. Japan is to be met in the semi-final round at Washington, starting tomorrow. In the event of a victory the United States then will play Cuba in the final at Detroit starting May 30.

Ahead the United States, if successful in the American zone, will compete in two series. The first at Paris, starting July 19 against the winner of the European zone final, probably Italy or Great Britain. Then will come the challenge round with the defending French team at Paris, July 26, 27 and 28.

COEN PLAYS GREAT TENNIS

Young Star Brilliant in Defeat—Other U. S. Players Advance.

By Thomas T. Topping.

Paris, May 22.—(AP)—Young Willie Coen in defeat displayed the tennis shown by any American player.

Coen, a 19-year-old from Chicago, defeated the Frenchman, Jean Fautou, in the first round of the international hard court championships which saw the advance of Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter and of Helen Wills and Edith Cross into the quarter-finals in men's and women's doubles, respectively.

The Kansas City boy, tennis in the set which he and Edouard Boretra, young brother of the "bouncing Basque" of France, managed to take from Tilden and Hunter was of real championship caliber.

Big Bill and his partner finally won from the youngsters by scores of 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, but only after they had been forced to drop their playful policy of centering their fire upon Coen. His clashing return passed the veterans cleanly several times and enabled the younger players to take the set.

Coen played the best tennis I have ever seen him play," Tilden said after the match. "It was surprisingly excellent tennis."

Miss Wills and Miss Cross snatched into the quarter-finals in women's doubles without undue exertion, eliminating the Anglo-French team of Miss Lucy Johnstone and Mme. Renee Fourcade, 6-4, 6-4.

Paired with Miss Cross, the youthful Coen came through the first round of mixed doubles, winning from Germany's recognized best team consisting of Frau Friedlender and Karl Wetzel in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

The American-Italian team of Marjorie Morrill and Baron H. L. Da Murgio, experienced greater difficulty against Miss Pesmidt and Victor Rasmussen, a Danish pair, but this was the first time they ever played together and experts feel they will improve as the tournament progresses. The score was 6-4, 9-7.

All the other favored combinations remain in the running, including Lili Alvarez, Spain, and Kea Bonnan, Holland, and the Misses Cole and Tapscott, South Africa, in women's doubles; and the two French men's doubles pairs of Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, and Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra.

Pros Are Urged To Attend Meet

Southeastern President Says Business Meeting of More Importance Than Tournament.

By Dick Hawkins.

Howard Beckett, professional at Capital City Club and president of the Southeastern Professional Golfers Association, is just before beginning a journey to the P. G. A. meeting at Birmingham and he is pleading for company.

Not only as president of the organization but for many years Howard has been one of the leading figures in the group and it is one of Howard's pet grievances that the southeastern professionals do not evince any more interest in the organization than the do.

"Too many," Howard declares, "look upon the annual meeting as a golf tournament which there is no use of attending if one is not reasonably certain of winning some part of the money. As a matter of fact, the tournament is for should be only a small part of the meeting. Exchange of ideas among the professionals and the forming of closer ties should be far more important than the tournament."

"A golf professional," he further declares, "is just like any other business man. If he refuses to exchange ideas with the others in his field he will grow stagnant and his course will suffer. When his course suffers his income suffers."

If I may say so, Howard is eminently correct in his views. The job of the pro at most southeastern clubs is not just a matter of making clubs, giving lessons and selling golf accessories to the rest of us. More often than not, he is greens-keeper, architect and ex-officio chairman of the greens, tournament, grounds and house committees. Unquestionably the experience of two-score is more valuable as a lesson than his own experience alone.

But enough of preaching. At least four Atlanta professionals will attend the tournament and at least two of them, Frank Ball, present champion, and Howard Beckett, are likely to figure in the money. The tournament will be played at the Roebuck Country Club in Birmingham.

DUAL ENTENTE.

The dual entente formed some time ago by P. G. Henahan and Jim Ison is finding business too good a thing to let go. These two golfers first took on Bob Jones a couple of weeks ago with Bob playing their best ball and starting them three up. They won the match and Bob's backers cried for revenge. Again the other day the same match was played and when it ended in a deadlock when Bob won the last two holes to go all even.

Yesterday Bill Warren and Dana Beiser fell before the prowess of the dual entente, who call themselves the "little potatoes" because they're so hard to peel. Saturday Horrie Moore and Will Gunn will take on the two veterans and perhaps youth will be served. And perhaps it will not. P. G. and Jim "play horse" with the boys terribly.

BOYS' HI WINS.

The Boys' High golf team added another victory to its string the other day when the Darlington High team, of Rome, took a walk-off by a 12-6 score. Saturday the Rome outfit will seek revenge when they meet the Moore-Gunn-Yates-Chambers combo at East Lake. The purple outfit stands an odds-on favorite.

Catcher Released.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The New York Yankees have released Arndt Jorgens, recruit pitcher, to the Jersey City Club of the international league on option. Jorgens came to the Yankees this year from the Oklahoma City Club of the Western league. He has favorably impressed Miller Huggins, but with Bill Dickey and John Gribowski doing the bulk of the work now the Yankee manager figured Jorgens would be better off doing regular work with Jersey City.

SYNOPSIS

Joy Harrison, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers, in Harley street, is crushed by a letter from her fiancé, Geoffrey Fort, a well-known novelist, asking to be released from the engagement. Dr. Travers, occupied with her own trouble, fails to notice that Dr. Travers seems troubled, too. Toward the end of the day he tells Joy that he has just had a great deal of money through an unscrupulous selector and he will be forced to give up his house in Harley street.

Dr. Locke, a tenant, tells Rex that he has just been offered a practice with a comfortable villa in the south of France, which he cannot take on, and he suggests that he recommend Rex for it. The only hitch to the plan is that they want a married doctor and Rex is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new post, Rex turns a deaf ear. Joy, who has been listening to the doctor's colloquy, suddenly sees a method of escape for her and she asks Dr. Travers if he will marry her on a business arrangement. The doctor is stunned by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him that she is badly in need of another job, although her real reason is to have Geoffrey read of her engagement to another man.

The doctor broods over the change his altered circumstances will have on his young nee and ward, Percival Arthur. Finally he decides to take Joy at her word and they enter into agreement to marry on a strictly business basis.

INSTALLMENT XVII. A SHORT CUT.

For Rex Travers, preoccupied as he was with all this going-a-racket and with the wedding-up in under three years to get together, had yet time to feel added anxiety.

Already this infernal engagement had landed him into countless things for which he had not bargained. Limerick and comments as profuse as if they were a couple of film favorites.

The girl had promised to play up; he admitted that she had begun to play up better; but supposing every one saw through that, even as a boy was seeing through it? Supposing one person after another began to suspect the doctor's wife wasn't very happy with him?

Very damaging.

And if the wretched girl were definitely unhappy...

He became increasingly doubtful about the success of this wild experiment.

Ought he to ask the girl if she wished to reconsider the matter?

Even if she did, could he let her go, when the affair had arrived at this point, all arrangements made, everything settled, money raised on it...

Impossible!

Still, what was to be done?

O Lord, a man ought to have time to consider and think out a problem like this.

A woman (meaning Granny Travers) has a way of taking shortcuts.

"Joy, dear, Joy. Just a word."

It was that afternoon as Joy was going out on business to talk to the lock of Percival Arthur's trunk—to say it was a boy's box is to say it is a ruin without fastenings. She had on her little felt hat, her gloves, her dispatch-case in her hand. Mrs. Travers drew her mysteriously back toward the top of the kitchen stairs and murmured:

"Joy! Tell me the honest truth—"

Here she paused, so obviously uncertain as to how she ought to begin, or whether she ought to have begun that Joy herself encouraged her.

"Please do ask me anything."

But horrors! Would this gentle, impulsive romantic ask of her that question which haunts the hearts of all mothers not of the Penny Ford model: "Girl, do you really care for my boy?"

But granny Travers put it: "Joy, dear, do you really, honor bright, want to get married?"

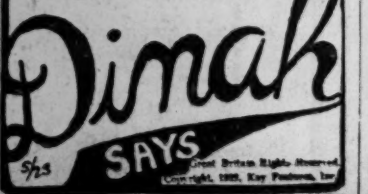

Upon which Joy received a real shock. Supposing both Dr. Travers' mother and himself became aware exactly how much she hated her situation?

Supposing they said: "Well, the marriage can't possibly go on."

Supposing the marriage did not go on? At this moment Joy could think of nothing worse. Panic widened those misty colored eyes. Panic hurried out of those pale fox glove pink lips the answer: "Want to get married? Of course I do! It's only—I'm just before one gets married that's all."

"I know dear, I know. Perfectly."

Plans for Big Plant Here to Manufacture Neon Signs Announced After Merger

Munn Sign and Advertising Company Affiliates With Claude Neon Company of New York.

Plans for erection of a large manufacturing plant producing neon electric light signs and equipment for distribution in Georgia and three other southern states, were disclosed Wednesday with announcement that preliminary negotiations effecting a merger between the Munn Sign and Advertising Company, of Atlanta, with the Claude Neon Company, of New York, have been consummated.

The new local organization will be operated under the name of the Munn-Claude Neon Works, with a capitalization of $750,000, with expenditure of a large sum to be made immediately for the Atlanta manufacturing plant.

Two sites on Techwood drive and another on Houston street now are under consideration for location of the plant. In addition, the new investment, the new company will spend $75,000 for construction of a one-story plant and $50,000 for initial equipment.

Negotiations Completed.
E. Frank Munn, president of the Munn Sign and Advertising Company, declared Wednesday that preliminary negotiations in the merger had been completed and that he planned to have the new company ready to start operations by May 31.

Under arrangements of the merger the local company becomes an associate company of the newly-organized international concern, to be known as the Associated Claude Neon Companies of America. The parent company is to be capitalized for $4,000,000 and will have associated companies covering every state in the union as well as Cuba, Mexico, Hawaii, Philippines, China, Japan, Australia and European nations.

The merger companies include concerns such as the Munn Sign and Advertising Company, which has held the agency for Neon signs for more than two years, as well as other concerns throughout North America. While in Atlanta the manufacturing and distributing company for Neon products will be operated as the Munn-Claude Neon Works, the parent company will control the Atlanta headquarters operations in Alabama, South Carolina and North Carolina as well as Georgia.

Mr. Munn, who has been an outstanding figure in the sign and advertising field since entering the business in 1908, and has resided in Atlanta for 15 years, will be the head of the 15-year-old company here. Selection of the site for the Atlanta factory will be made within the next two or three days. The plant will be mainly a one-story scientific building containing 20,000 square feet, while above the front portion of the building will be erected the offices comprising an area measuring 35x55 feet. The building will be rushed to completion and is scheduled to be ready for occupancy within three months from June 15, at which time the merged organization becomes effective.

SECRECY IN UNCOVERED

Cleveland, May 22.—(AP)—Secrecy will be invoked again tomorrow when Dr. William E. Lower, a Cleveland clinic director, is recalled to testify before Coroner A. J. Pearce in the coroner's hearing on the clinic disaster that took 122 lives.

Pearse halted his investigation today when he examined the transcript of testimony already given by Dr. Lower.

Announcing that Dr. Lower will be recalled, the coroner said he believed the physician's testimony will be of great importance in arriving at a verdict. When the verdict is announced the records of testimony will be released to the public.

An after-thought that traces of the deadly gas might still be lingering in the clinic building, sent workmen who were repairing the building, were hurrying to safety outdoors while ventilating fans were used thoroughly to air out the clinic.

With the state's investigation of the disaster completed and fixing spontaneous combustion as the cause of the fire of X-ray films which generated the fatal gases and with the coroner's investigation still in progress, a third probe will be started Thursday. It will be conducted by Harry L. Rockwood, city health commissioner.

Cleveland hospitals, which still suffer 20 patients suffering from effects of poison gas they inhaled at the clinic a week ago, were awaiting the arrival tonight of emergency "tents" from other cities of the nation.

Several of the patients were in critical condition and the hospitals have an insufficient supply of the tents, which are special boxes with transparent insets used to cover the patient's head while administering oxygen.
